TIRED OUT!

At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
—THE BEST TONIC—
For "Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc." It HAS NO EQUAL, and is the only iron medicine that is not injurious. It enriches the blood, invigorates the system, restores appetite, aids digestion. It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other iron medicines do. Dr. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says:
"Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action exceeds all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it."
Dr. W. N. WATSON, 119 Third Street, Georgetown, D. C., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the tonic of the age. Nothing better. It creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion."

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR DRAFTS AN IMPORTANT BILL.

It Provides for the Reduction of the Round Valley Indian Reservation in the State of Colorado -- Ungentlemanly Act of Mr. Chamberlain--Notes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The president has transmitted to congress a communication from the secretary of the interior, submitting the draft of a bill "to provide for the reduction of the Round Valley Indian reservation in the state of Colorado," with accompanying papers.

"The documents thus submitted," the president says, "exhibit extensive and entirely unjustifiable encroachments upon lands set apart for Indian occupancy, and disclose a disregard of Indian rights so long continued that the government cannot further temporize without positive dishonor. Efforts to dislodge trespassers upon these lands have in some cases been resisted upon the ground that certain monies due from the government for improvements have not been paid. So far as this claim is well founded the sum necessary to extinguish the same should be at once appropriated and paid. In other cases the provision of these intruders is one of simple and wrongdoing, plainly questioning the inclination of the government to protect its dependent Indian wards and its ability to maintain itself in the guaranty of such protection. These intruders should forthwith feel the weight of the government's power. I earnestly commend the situation and the wrongs of the Indians occupying the reservation named to the early attention of congress and ask for the bill herewith transmitted, careful and prompt consideration."

The bill referred to authorizes the president to cause the agricultural lands in the reservation to be surveyed into ten acre tracts, and to allot the same in severalty to the Indians, reserving a sufficient quantity for agency and school purposes. He shall also reserve a reasonable amount of grazing and timber lands for the use of the Indians in common. The remainder of the grazing lands are to be surveyed into tracts of 640 acres each, and when appraised sold to the highest bidder, at a price not less than the appraised value. The funds arising from the sale of the lands the bill proposes to place to the credit of the Indians.

The Thoebe-Carlisle Contest.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The house committee on elections met to-day and began the consideration of the Thoebe-Carlisle contested election case from Kentucky, involving the speaker's right to his seat in the house.

Mr. Carlisle was not represented. Mr. Thoebe was present in person, and was represented by his attorney, Mr. J. H. Hale Sypher, who made a long argument, reviewing the case, and urging the importance of the committee going into the district and taking testimony, declaring it to be the duty of the committee. He said that Mr. Carlisle had himself acknowledged, on the night after the election, that he was defeated and that Mr. Thoebe was elected, and that only by the count and the canvass was Mr. Carlisle declared elected.

Mr. Thoebe followed Mr. Sypher, and spoke briefly. He said he came out of the shops to appear before the committee, that he might see and know him, and that he might have the opportunity of making a personal statement of the facts in the case. He was questioned by members of the committee, and the conclusion of his statement said that if the case was decided against him, he would go back to his shop and resume his work, but he would not quit voting.

Mr. Sypher and Mr. Thoebe claimed that on the night of the election Mr. Carlisle's defeat was so apparent that a conference of his friends was held, and a decision reached to hold back the returns until they could be fixed up, so as to give him a majority. This was done and done so boldly and clumsily that the returns themselves showed that changes and interpolation had been made, and made in the same handwriting in different precincts. The fraud was manifest.

Mr. Thoebe and his attorney charged that it was notorious in the vicinity that friends of Mr. Carlisle had induced the attorney originally employed by Thoebe to neglect the proper means of gathering evidence. Mr. Sypher claimed to have affidavits in support of his charges.

Mr. Sypher claimed that it was now the manifest duty of the committee to do one of three things. Forty days additional must be allowed for Mr. Thoebe to collect evidence, or the committee must go to the district to investigate, or summon witnesses to Washington to testify. The committee took a recess until 1:30. After recess, Mr. Sypher, on behalf of Mr. Thoebe, presented in the form of written resolutions the suggestions outlined in his speech of the forenoon. He said he preferred that the committee should adopt the resolution appointing a select committee to visit the contested election district and report its findings to the house. The committee at 1:45 went into secret session.

Ungentlemanly Act of Mr. Chamberlain.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—"The courteous attention paid by Democratic senators, while Mr. Sherman was speaking on Wednesday," said Senator Voorhees this morning to a representative of the United Press, "was but little imitated by the Republicans when I was speaking; but I would scarcely refer to this lack, if it were not for an incident that occurred late in the afternoon. I had been speaking about an hour when laughter from the Republican side attracted my attention, followed by conversation in tones almost as pronounced as my own. I raised my voice so as to attract the attention of the disturbers, and the president quietly touched his desk with the gavel. The noise ceased temporarily. It caused me no little regret later to discover that this breach of the dignity of the senate had been caused by Mr. Chamberlain, of England. I say regret, because had I known that Mr. Chamberlain was the disturber, I would have said that if I were forced to submit to the carelessness of my associates of the senate chamber, I was not bound to bear the bad manners brought from over the sea by one who failed to appreciate the privileges of the senate floor. However, I say it with renewed emphasis this morning."

Clerks of House Committees.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Clerks of house committees were this morning selected as follows: J. C. Courts, of Tennessee, appropriations; W. H. Mobley, of Georgia, committee on elections; A. C. Weaver, of Iowa, patents; J. P. Hume, of Wisconsin, expenditures in the department of the interior; E. B. Wade, of Tennessee, printing; Alex. J. Jones, of Illinois, territories; George Gilliland, of Ohio, banking and currency; Charles A. Mills, of Texas, assistant clerk ways and means committee; Henry Talbot, of Illinois, principal clerk of ways and means committee; T. B. Cabiness, of Georgia, postoffice and post roads; John Mesler, of Indiana, invalid pensions; George B. Parsons, of Illinois, military affairs; Joseph Baumer, of Alabama, naval affairs; Louis Chable, of Texas, commerce; R. M. Wallace, of Missouri, agriculture; D. P. Bailey, of Missouri, coinage, weights and measures; D. W. Peil, of Arkansas, Indian affairs; D. W. Connell, of Texas, has been appointed messenger of the committee on ways and means; L. C. Mactherson, of Ohio, pacific railroads.

Open Executive Sessions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Mr. Aldrich, chairman of the senate committee on rules, proposes such amendments to the rules as will, if adopted, meet the wishes of the most moderate among the advocates for open executive sessions. The changes proposed provide in the case of executive nominations that the reference to committee reports, whether favorable or otherwise, and the final action shall not be regarded as secrets, and that in other matters, such as treaties, the subjects of debate and the action of the senate shall only be regarded as confidential when, by resolution, the injunction of secrecy is placed upon such subject or such action. This, it will be seen, would leave unexposed what is said in debate and the division of the senate on any executive nomination. There will come a time when much greater concessions than these will be made, when debates and rules on nominations will be had with open doors.

Committees Organizing.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A majority of the most important house committees met this forenoon and perfected organization. No effort was made to do any business. A very few of them designated sub-committees. The committee on ways and means did not go further than to appoint clerks and fix upon Tuesday and Friday of each week at meeting days. The subject of tariff was not broached. Appropriations reapportioned its clerks and informally talked over the urgency deficiency bill. It was agreed that action should be taken as soon as possible, and that the provisions of the bill which failed at the last session shall be adopted, as far as practicable.

Tariff Reform and Revenue Reductions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Chairman Mills, of the committee on ways and means, says that he will call the committee together without delay and will proceed at once to the consideration and formulation of a tariff reform bill, but having in view revenue reduction as well. "I do not think," said he, "that it will be necessary to allow any protracted hearings of manufacturers or others interested in this class of legislation. We have ample material on hand of that character from which source all necessary information may be obtained. These hearings, if granted, will only cause delay."

The New Land Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—It is reported to-day that the president will send to the senate early next week the name of S. M. Stockslager, of Indiana, to be commissioner of the general land office. Mr. Stockslager is at present deputy and acting commissioner. Hugh Wallace, of Salt Lake City, Utah, late receiver of the United States land office at that city, has been tendered, so his friends say, the position now occupied by Mr. Stockslager, and that he has refused it, because he does not want to live at Washington. Mr. Wallace is here to-day.

Postal Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Postal telegraph bills are all the rage. They bid fair to become as numerous as pension bills. The whole subject must soon come up for exhaustive discussion, and that will doubtless reveal such wide differences of opinion as will preclude the possibility of agreement upon postal telegraph measures during the present session.

Serious Railroad Accident.

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—Intelligence was received in this city to-day of a disastrous railway accident on the Canadian Pacific railway, a few miles west of White river. It is said that the telegraph agent at one of the stations on the line failed to cancel a freight train as he had orders to and it collided with another freight train on a trestle work ninety feet high. Both trains fell from the track and the two engineers, two firemen and two brakemen were instantly killed. Others were injured.

Chicago Editorial Changes.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Stanley Waterloo, whose journalistic fame is known in almost every section of the country, has resigned his position at the head of the editorial staff of the Tribune and assumed the general charge of the editorial and news departments of the Chicago Mail, vice Clinton A. Snowden, the latter having taken the position of editor-in-chief and managing editor of the Chicago Times.

Frozen to Death.

GRAND RAPIDS, Dak., Jan. 7.—S. S. Heland, of Bachelors Grove, in the western part of this county, was frozen to death in the storm of Monday last. He had gone to Louisiana, two miles distant, to procure medicine for his sick wife, and was lost when returning on foot.

Press Club Election.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The annual election of the Press club of Chicago was held last night, and James W. Scott, of the Chicago Herald, was re-elected president, it being the first time in the history of the club that a president had been chosen for two successive terms.

THE STRIKERS CONFIDENT.

THE MEN OUT ON THE READING SYSTEM FEELING HAPPY.

People Anxiously Awaiting a Manifesto From the Big Corporation Officers—An Advance Offered the Miners as Individuals—Resolutions Adopted.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—This is in all respects the most promising day of the strike, yet from a strikers point of view, and they are accordingly happy while the officials of the Reading railroad look more serious than at any time during the trouble. All eyes are on Philadelphia, anxiously awaiting some manifesto to issue from the big building of the still bigger corporation on Fourth street.

At Port Richmond to-day the work is badly crippled. Sixty Italians who took the places of the strikers quit work this morning upon the inducements of President Tranchitelli, of the Italian Workmen's Beneficial association. This, according to the men, leaves only those Italians who were brought from other cities at work on the system here.

Scarcely any work was being done on the piers and only four shifting engines were working.

Henry I. Bennett said he had received dispatches from Bernard Sharkey stating that the situation was good at Pottsville, and the men all firm.

Assemblies Nos. 8,819 and 5,890, passed these resolutions last night and the other local assemblies will adopt them to-day:

"WHEREAS, The quiet and peaceful demeanor of our members will prevent the Pinkerton detectives from rendering the service for which they were employed (namely inciting to riot) and,

"WHEREAS, Our conduct will shorten their term of service to that of the briefest duration, and they will be cast adrift and left to the tender mercies of a heartless corporation who wish to cause trouble among their employees; therefore, be it

"RESOLVED, That we tender our sympathies to the Pinkerton detectives now employed by the Reading railroad, whose occupation, like Othello's, will soon be gone; and be it further

"RESOLVED, That while we tender our sympathies, we withhold our moral and financial support."

At Front and Willow streets quite a blockade of freight trains is noticeable, and it can be plainly seen that the force of men on hand is equal to the demands. Along Pennsylvania avenue there is very little to do, and consequently the small force is able to cope with the work. General Manager McLeod said this morning that he had nothing to give out to-day, and knew of nothing of interest to the public. It is certain, however, that something in the manner of a compromise with the miners must be made in a few days, as the scarcity of coal is becoming alarming and every mail brings a batch of protests from large business people.

John H. Davis, chief manager of the miners' strike, says: "There are 20,000 Reading miners and 18,000 railroaders out. The miners never promised the company to give up their 8 per cent. advance on January 1."

Opposed to an Organization.

READING, Pa., Jan. 7.—Superintendent Whiting held a conference yesterday afternoon with President Corbin. It is said that a proposition will be offered to the miners as individuals that if they go to work the company will pay the 8 per cent. advance, but it will not treat with them as an organization.

All is quiet in the coal regions this morning. Brookside colliery at Tower City started up with twelve miners, twenty-five state pickers and thirty laborers. The usual force is 550 men. This colliery ships 350 to 450 cars daily when in full operation. The Reading company expect to ship fifty cars from there to-day.

Reading officials in this city deny the story that they are about selling a large quantity of buckwheat coal, which has been accumulated at their docks here for locomotive fuel. They say their supply will hardly last them two months if the strike continues.

Some of the knights at Tower City who are employed at the Brookside and Lincoln collieries say if the Lehigh men do not get to work in two weeks the Reading collieries will be started up. They say they cannot stand out long. The Reading company, it is said, are refusing to send cars to individual collieries that have granted the 8 per cent. advance.

Mr. Miller, one of the proprietors of the New Lincoln colliery, says that the Reading company has notified him that if he pays the 8 per cent. advance, no cars will be furnished. Mr. Miller says he blames President Corbin for the whole trouble.

The Reading company brought down 648 loaded coal cars last night, above five trains in all, but handled 1,394 freight cars. There were twelve light coal trains sent into the regions with 1,680 empty cars. These cars are being side-tracked on the Frankville & Mine Hill railroad.

A More Peaceful Outlook.

PORTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 7.—While the miners are apparently determined to hold to the last, the outlook is more peaceful, and with the prospect of more individual collieries starting up, it is believed that the strike will be of short duration. There is a very strong conservative element among the miners, and it will not take much persuasion to induce all to return to work pending arbitration. The public meetings to be held here and elsewhere in the coal regions will, it is hoped, be instrumental in bringing about an early settlement.

The miners who work in the Thomaston colliery, near Minersville, assured the company that they would go to work at the August basis of wages. This is one of the best collieries owned by the Reading company, about one hundred and fifty cars being the daily average output. The men will go back in this mine because they are now, and were from the commencement of the present trouble, opposed to a strike without first exhausting every effort to adjust matters amicably.

Leaving the Knights of Labor.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—As the result of failure to secure from the general executive board of the Knights of Labor an investigation and settlement of matters at issue between that body and District Assembly 66, and local Assembly 4,026, Knights of Labor, has adopted resolutions vigorously attacking both District Assembly 66 and the general executive board. The resolutions bearing date of January 5, conclude as follows:

"FINALLY RESOLVED, That from this date all connection between this assembly and the order of Knights of Labor, be totally dissolved, and that the assembly will henceforth exercise all the powers and privileges that, through reason, common consent and opportunity, it may acquire. Members desiring transfer cards to the old order of Knights of Labor can secure them from the recording secretary."

SOLDIERS FIGHTING FIRE.

One of the Buildings in the Brooklyn Navy Yard Burned.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—There was great excitement at the navy yard in Brooklyn this morning among the officers and marines upon the cry of fire being raised. They sallied out in undress uniform, and with buckets, pails, and short ladders, went to work to put it out. It had started in the Navigation building on Washington avenue in the second story of the south end, and had originated in some offices where the plans for the new war vessels to be built in the navy yard were kept. Admiral Gherardi soon turned out and thought that the fire could be suppressed by his own men. The wind caught the flames and whirled them up in the air and soon the admiral and the other officers in the yard saw that they could not check its progress, and an alarm was sent out for the fire department.

The district engineer on arriving did not stop to dally with it, but sent out a third alarm call. The whole southern end of the building blazed up in sheets of flame and made a fine spectacle. Crowds gathered around the walls outside, but marines guarded the gates and would not allow spectators in. They did not want to let even the firemen in. The building was used for the construction, navigation, ordnance and equipment departments. The officers of these departments were in the two lower stories, and above there is some storage rooms. The buildings were 200 feet long by fifty-feet wide.

Suicided in Bed.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 7.—Yesterday afternoon a man who gave the name of O. L. Hackett, was found dead in his bed at the St. Charles hotel. Examination proved that he had committed suicide by taking laudanum. He called at the hotel and was given a room. When his door was burst open yesterday he was found dead. He left a note saying that a brother, B. Hackett, resided at 223 High street, Providence, R. I. A recommendation from John R. Schaffer, secretary of the Iowa State Agricultural society, was found on his person. In the letter which he left were the names of F. W. Davis, of No. 21 Washington avenue, north, and George Crane, a salesman at Seelbaums, and Henry Jones, an architect. These, he said, would understand the motives that actuated him in taking his life. He was about thirty-five years of age and was canvassing the city for some soap company.

Canadians Aroused.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 7.—The following is a special cable dispatch to the Mail: The Pall Mall Gazette's traveling commissioner, writing from Toronto, says: Commercial union is the coming question for Canada. It is talked about everywhere, and is a question which will split the Canadian parties, and will determine the whole relationship between Canada and the United States for years to come, and affect to a great, if not vital, degree the future of the Anglo-Saxon race upon the globe. Both the Globe and the Mail of Toronto, the first being a Liberal organ and the second recently converted from Conservatism to Independence, vie with each other in the strength of their support. My own experience is that outside of Ottawa, which is the center of Ministerialism, three out of five of the most intelligent men I have met are enthusiastic commercial unionists.

Chicago's Great Coming Library.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Dr. Poole, the librarian of the new Newberry library, has returned from the east, where he purchased a number of choice volumes. At the Guild sale, in Boston, he secured about four thousand choice books, among them quite a collection of Americana. The Bangs sale, in New York, also enriched the library with a long list of bibliographical works, catalogues, etc. In the meanwhile, Trustee Blatchford has received a number of books as gifts from various sources—several thousand volumes. Many donations have been made by people in the old country. One of them is a copy of the Caxton Memorial Bible, printed and bound in twelve hours for the Caxton celebration in 1877. There are already over twelve thousand volumes actually in Dr. Poole's possession, and further purchases are contemplated constantly.

Killed His Step-Brother.

MALTA, Kan., Jan. 7.—A terrible, though somewhat justifiable, murder was committed at Hitesville, Union county, Ky., yesterday. James Lineback, a sixteen-year-old boy, shot and killed L. Clark, his step-brother. Clark was in a terrible rage and was beating Lineback's little brother. The boy interfered, but to no avail, and then taking a gun shot Clark. The young murderer has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood, and a strong effort will be made to clear him at the trial.

Starvation and Freezing Stories False.

MALTA, Kan., Jan. 7.—The board of trade have passed resolutions announcing that it had caused a searching investigation to be made throughout southwestern Kansas for the purpose of ascertaining the extent of the suffering during the cold weather this winter, with the result that not one case of death by freezing or starvation has occurred. The resolutions strongly denounce the authors of the false and sensational reports which were given such wide circulation in the east.

The Indiana Silver Mine.

JASPER, Ind., Jan. 7.—The Buck Shoals Silver Mining & Smelting company are smelting about twenty tons of silver-bearing rock daily. The product is from sixty-five to seventy-five pounds of metal from each blast of twenty-four hours. An assay of one ton of the rock at Newport, Ky., showed a silver product of $60 and $4 in gold. The ledge of the rock is in the bluffs of White river, in Dubois county, Indiana.

Former Citizen of Mason Dead.

Died, after a long illness, on December 19, 1887, Mrs. Ellen D. Quetting, wife of the late Josef J. Quetting.

Mrs. Quetting will be remembered by the older residents of this county as the genial and hospitable wife of the late Colonel Stephen Morgan, of Washington, Ky. Some years after his death she married Mr. Josef J. Quetting, and she has since then resided in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mrs. Quetting was a woman of remarkable intellectual capacity and brilliancy, while her natural ability had been cultivated by study and travel, and these qualities, joined to a warm, generous heart and a cordial, kindly manner, made her a most interesting companion. From her youth she had been a communicant of the church, and in her life and character a consistent Christian. Her illness of ten years' duration she has borne with untiring gentleness and patience, until, at last, much beloved and greatly mourned, she has entered into that perfect rest so longed for.

Mastodon Minstrels.

Mlle Girard's Mastodon Minstrels appeared before a good sized audience in the opera house. Frank Vennetta and Miss Frankie Hall did some very good singing. Miss Hall was also excellent in her Irish specialties. Lew Carroll, eccentric comedian, gave the audience something new in his tramp sketch and song entitled, "Booze." Frank Vennetta and Hattie Adams, in their Black Faced Sketch gave good satisfaction; the negro hymn singing of Sadie Burgess was good; the Dutch comedians, Carroll and West, kept the audience in a roar while they were on the stage. The Halls, Frankie and James, appeared in an entirely new change act, illustrating the manner of blacking up, and winding up with a song and dance. The act all through is a great novelty. The entertainment is devoid of vulgarity.—Rome Sentinel, October 28, 1887.

At opera house next Monday night. See advertisement elsewhere for prices of admission.

THE Equitable Life is now paying the widows and orphans an average of about $500,000 per month. It is known in the majority of instances they have nothing else for support. Insure in the most prompt paying company.

Agent, Maysville Ky.

TICKET No. 2,652 won the brick house on Grave Alley disposed of last night for the benefit of the Catholic Church. It was sold to the late James H. Hall, Sr., and is now held by his executors. There was a total of 1,035 chances on the house but the tickets were not numbered consecutively, as they were sold by different persons.

THE little village of Lewisburg has caught the spirit of modern church entertainments, and is outrivaling her more extensive sisters in their frequency and uniqueness. During the holidays an oyster supper was given for the benefit of the Baptist Church, from which a nice sum was realized. This was followed by a festival at the residence of Mr. James Cahill. To-night a "cake walk" is to be given at Mr. Berry's. This unique entertainment will doubtless be very amusing. An elegant cake is prepared, and the most graceful gets the prize. There will be several fair contestants, and the race will be an interesting one.

The following named young gentlemen observed New Year's Day: M. Y. Smith, Thos. McDaniel, H. L. Games, Frank Ellis, Sanford Turnipseed, Wm. Smith, Joe Cheseaman, Sam Fulton, Wm. McQuilkin and Alex. Ellis. They made so many calls and cake was served so often that it had a depressing effect on some of their stomachs—got sick, you know. Some one said that the last call was when the patrol wagon swung in the circle to convey them home.

The way to make your town boom is to give it "help-blozes." Put your foot down on all enterprises; don't advertise; if you have anything to sell let people find it out; if a stranger with capital and energy comes in the town invite him out with a shot-gun; the town was good enough for your ancestors one hundred years ago, and it surely is for you. Above all, give everybody to understand the place is no account, talk all you can against it and its inhabitants that will make strangers feel like they wanted to live there.

The Sons of Veterans, Power Campbell Camp, No. 164, will give an entertainment Friday, January 13th, for the benefit of the order. "Vau Ness, or Initiation Candidate," a burlesque that makes roars of laugh er. Professor Campbell's orchestra produces the music for the occasion. This camp is in a flourishing condition, and was named after one of Aberdeen's prominent citizens, who served his country in its days of peril, being a member of Company A, 40th Kentucky Mounted Infantry. Mr. Campbell was born Jan. 9, 1811, and died September 4, 1878, being sixty-eight years old at his death. He was prominently identified with the river interests in his day.

[From Another Correspondent.]

The most delightful entertainment it has been the privilege of your correspondent to attend was given at the home of Mrs. A. B. Ward, Thursday evening. When we were invited to see Mr. George Holton in his wonderful mimicry, we knew that there was a treat in store for us that could hardly be excelled by Sol Smith Russell, or Alf Burnett. Mr. Holton was assisted by Mr. John B. Holton on the violin, and Mr. T. L. Holton on the guitar. The guests were served with an elegant spread, consisting of cold turkey, biscuit, chicken salad, coffee, whipped cream, cakes and other refreshments.

STARVING BY MILLIONS.

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF LIVES
LOST IN CHINA.

Further Particulars of the Overflow of the Yellow River—Last Days of the Pope's
Jubilee—Authors of the Forged Letters
Discovered—Foreign News.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Standard gives additional details of the awful devastation wrought by the overflow of the Yellow river in China some weeks ago. It appears that one-sixth of the entire area of the Garden of China, as Honan is styled, is now converted into a vast lake, with here and there a pagoda-top or gable of some higher wall rising over the increasing water to mark the site of what were a short time ago the prosperous cities of many thousand inhabitants.

The rest of the country is overrun with wretched refugees, who were fortunate enough to escape with their lives, though with naught else. In hundreds of instances men who three short moons ago were men of wealth to-day sit gazing on the inland sea stunned, hungry, stupid and dejected, with out a rag to wear or a morsel of food to eat. No less than 3,000 large villages have been engulfed, and scarcely any of their ill-fated people had time to save themselves, as the breach occurred in the night time. The people so terribly visited can not number far short of the whole population of Ireland.

According to the best and most trustworthy authorities the loss of life will not be numbered by thousands or ten of thousands, but literally by hundreds of thousands, while the starving people must amount to millions, who are utterly beggared and depending for subsistence upon the charity of others. The emperor has already contributed 100,000 taels out of the griv purse, besides ordering 2,000,000 out of the imperial treasury toward the relief of the sufferers.

Last Days of the Jubilee.

ROME, Jan. 7.—The public ceremonial in connection with the papal jubilee closed to-day, although there will be minor celebrations until the 15th, when his holiness will canonize ten saints. This morning the exhibition of gifts presented to the pope by the faithful in all parts of the world was formally opened, and the public will be admitted, under certain restrictions, for several days. The collection fills several of the largest rooms of the Vatican, one entire department being filled with the five wagon loads of gifts from Austria and Hungary.

The Work of Schemers.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Reliable information from Brussels states that the authors of the forged letters which were sent to the czar have been ascertained to be a clique of financiers, who were desirous of facilitating the Bulgarian loan. The Brussels authorities for this statement say that the Orleanists are innocent of any participation.

The Prince Will Go to Cairo.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—Dr. Schmidt examined the crown prince again to-day, and reports favorably on his condition. The prince has been compelled to remain indoors on account of the bad weather. It is reported that the crown prince will go to Cairo to spend the rest of the winter.

Carnot's First Dinner.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—President Carnot gave his first diplomatic dinner last night at the Elysee. All foreign ambassadors and ministers at present in Paris sat down to table. After dinner M. and Mme. Carnot held their first presidential reception.

Double Assassination.

ARCADIA, Mo., Jan. 7.—A mysterious double assassination occurred on Neal's creek, in Iron county, yesterday. For several years there has been a feud between William Turner and Alexander Sumpter, a prominent farmer of the vicinity. Recently Sumpter was attacked from an ambush and wounded, and he caused the arrest of Turner for the shooting. Turner was tried yesterday and acquitted. After the trial, Sumpter and a friend named Charles Asher, returned to Sumpter's house, and while talking in the yard both were fired upon. Sumpter was shot through the neck and killed, and Asher was shot through the body and mortally wounded.

New Orleans Primaries.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7.—The Democratic primaries yesterday were the most exciting on record. Still, the best of good order was maintained and no violence occurred worth speaking of. New Orleans was the citadel of the campaign, which, carried by either party, would have quitted that party's candidate in the nomination. It sends 104 delegates to the convention out of 450. All the county parishes have voted, and give Nicholls 183 uncontested votes; McEnery 83 uncontested votes; 28 scattering, and 60 contested. Nicholls thus lacks 46 votes of enough to elect him.

New Splendor in Railroad.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The famous vestibule train now running between Chicago and New York will, it is said, be outdone by a style of car for which orders to the extent of some hundreds of thousands of dollars have been given this week by the Michigan Central railroad, and which are to be put on the road early next season. They include magnificent drawing room, sleeping and smoking cars, the latter being furnished with complete libraries and general luxurious appointments on a style never before attempted.

Badly Shaken Up.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—There was another accident on the elevated railroad last night. An uptown train on the Sixth Avenue line was thrown from the track and ran across the middle track to the downtown track, completely blocking traffic for half an hour. The passengers were shaken up and greatly frightened.

Miraculous Escape.
